Please bring your own cushions for meditation and be prepared for all weathers. And please let us know well in advance of any dietary needs.

Few who practise the Taichi take much notice of the first movement of opening, nor the final closing that takes us back to the stillpoint once more.

Tew will explore these movements as well as the section called Cloud Hands, that illustrate the beautiful words in the Tao Te Ching no. 14

Face it; no face Follow it; no end.

(from the inspired translation by Ursula le Guin)
